Empower Yourself and Others
by Pam Manges

Take out your cell phone. Enter “Cancer Information” as a new contact. List 1-800-227-2345 as the phone number. You now have American Cancer Society’s national call center at your fingertips 24/7. Give this number to anyone in need of cancer information, resources, help, or a sympathetic ear. The person in need may be a new cancer patient, caregiver, family member, friend, co-worker, acquaintance, or the stranger on the street who notices you’re wearing a Relay For Life t-shirt.

Over the years, another wonderful source of help and local resources has been provided through the Patient Navigator program. With the new year, changes have come to that program within Ohio. In an effort to reach a greater number of new cancer patients and expand local resources throughout the state, some Patient Navigators have moved their offices to large hospitals in their geographic region. Patient Navigators, like our own Polly Johnson, without a large hospital in the area have taken on the new role of Community Resources Navigator. Polly will search for and develop local resources for cancer patients and caregivers in our area, refer patients to the national call center, and organize ACS’s Road to Recovery program.

In the past, we have recommended referring any cancer patients or others with cancer questions and concerns to Polly. Now, we ask you to pull out your cell phone and give people ACS’s 800 number. Remember, the phone number is 800-ACS-2345… where cancer patients and others can talk with knowledgeable, helpful people available 24 hours a day.
WHY I RELAY

I have not personally had to fight this dreadful disease in my body. I relay because this disease has touched and or taken the lives of these people that I love and respect dearly. I want to be a part no matter how big or small to help find a cure.

Teams, Teams, Teams
by Pam Manges

As of January’s Team Information Meeting, 27 teams had already registered online, plus other teams turned in registration forms at the meeting. How exciting! To help teams and their captains with any questions and concerns, tri-chair Dawna Sands has organized “Relay 101,” an informal chat for new and experienced team captains that takes place prior to each meeting at 6:15. This is a great way to learn some of the basics, ask questions, and offer suggestions. Tri-chair Saralyn Lash started January’s “Relay 101” with instructions on how to complete registration forms and Team Receipts. After that, participating team captains simply asked questions and got answers!

Additional help will be provided by some of our committee members who will keep in touch with team captains on a regular basis. Each team will have a “go-to” member of the committee. Of course, team captains and members are welcome to contact any of our committee members, as needed. For example, if you have a question about a scheduled activity at Relay, feel free to ask your go-to committee member or check with the Activities committee. A list of our committee members and their contact information can be found on our web site (www.relayforlife.org/wooster) under “Contact Us.” Pam Manges is working on dividing the teams between the committee volunteers. You will soon be notified of your go-to person. If any experienced team captain wants to serve as a mentor for new team captains, we’d love to make use of your knowledge and assistance. Email Pam at pamsrelaymail@msn.com to volunteer.
Dear Team Captains,

$ PLEASE have your big bills and change turned into a cashier's check.

$ Wayne Savings on Cleveland Road and downtown Wooster will do it for Relay for FREE. Checks should be made out to American Cancer Society.

Thank you for your cooperation and support.
