Mission Statement All elements of the Organizational Outcomes are driven by the Society's mission: The American Cancer Society is the nationwide community-based voluntary health organization dedicated to eliminating cancer as a major health problem by preventing cancer, saving lives, and diminishing suffering from cancer, through research, education, advocacy, and service.

2016 Challenge Goals : Our challenge goals for the nation include reducing cancer incidence and mortality and improving quality of life for people touched by cancer. These goals articulate the aspirations of the entire cancer community and cannot be achieved by the American Cancer Society alone.
